Munich. Registration for the Moto3 Standard / Moto3 GP race supporting the German GoPro MotoGP event taking place at the Sachsenring between 10 and 12 July 2015 is now open. To register and obtain further information about the fourth race in the 2015 season of the relaunched series, go to www.adac.de/moto3. The entry fee for guest riders is only €580.

A supporting event to the MotoGP, the Moto3 Standard / Moto3 GP race will be the absolute highlight of the season. And what's more, with the approval of FIM Europe the race was declared the first pilot race of the Moto3 Northern Europe Cup only a few weeks ago. The Moto3 Northern Europe Cup is intended as a platform for the best young riders from Central and Northern Europe to demonstrate their skills and develop them further.

The all-new concept was designed to help promote young talent and prepare them for higher racing classes. The kick-off will be the unprecedented pilot race on the racing circuit in Saxony. Like the IDM Moto3, the Moto3 Northern Europe Cup will include both a standard classification and a GP classification.

Participation in the Moto3 Northern Europe Cup pilot race at the German GoPro MotoGP event at the Sachsenring is included in the reduced entry fee for all permanent IDM Moto3 Standard / Moto3 GP entrants. Guest riders can now register for this event at www.adac.de/moto3.

In the 2015 season, the Moto3 Standard / Moto3 GP will start at the SUPERBIKE*IDM and at the German Speedweek. After the premiere of the new Moto3 Standard / Moto3 GP at the Lausitzring, the Nürburgring will host the second racing weekend (12 to 14 June). The supporting race to the GoPro Moto GP at the Sachsenring is the season's highlight. Further races will follow at the Hungaroring (3 to 5 July), at the Schleiz Triangle (31 July to 2 August), in Assen (7 to 9 August), in Oschersleben (20 to 23 August) and in Hockenheim (25 to 27 September).
